Step 1: Get ready to retire

The first step in your retirement process includes choosing the date you plan to retire. Now that you’ve decided you’re ready to retire, it’s time to consult the calendar and choose a retirement date. When choosing a date, make sure that you allow yourself adequate time to prepare. Generally, there are actions you’ll want to begin taking about 90 days in advance of your retirement date.

Keep in mind that there are no specific requirements you must meet to retire or end your employment with Wells Fargo. However, there are various eligibility requirements for certain benefits and compensation plans, which you'll want to consider as you're selecting a retirement date.

You may be eligible for . . .

Retiree health care:
Access to retiree health care coverage under the Wells Fargo & Company Retiree Plan. This includes Wells Fargo-sponsored retiree medical plans (and dental plan if you are under age 65). A limited number of team members are also eligible for a subsidy toward the cost of Wells Fargo-sponsored retiree medical coverage.

If you are eligible for Medicare but you are not eligible to receive a subsidy toward the cost of Wells Fargo-sponsored retiree medical coverage, you will be able to enroll in individual Medicare-eligible medical coverage through a voluntary Medicare coordinator service called Via Benefits™ rather than coverage under a Wells Fargo-sponsored Medicare Advantage plan.

See Step 3: Decide Upon Health Care Coverage in Retirement for more details.

Retiree continuation of Optional Term Life coverage:
You may elect to continue your group Optional Term Life coverage in retirement and you will not be required to complete a medical exam or provide a Statement of Health. Rates are determined by Metropolitan Life Insurance Company (MetLife) based on your age and tobacco-use status.

See Step 4: Evaluate Financial Protection Benefits for more details.

What’s my retirement date?
Your retirement date is always the day after your last day of employment. For example, if your last day of employment is March 5, your retirement date is March 6 — even if March 6 is a weekend or a holiday.

If you meet these eligibility requirements . . .

In a benefits-eligible full-time or part-time position on your last day of employment and meet one of the following:
- Age 55 with at least 10 completed years of service,
- Age 65 with at least one completed year of service,
- 80 points (based on age + completed years of service), or
- If you were:
  - In a benefits-eligible position and on Wachovia's payroll as of December 31, 2009, and your age plus full years of service equaled 50 or greater as of January 1, 2010, and
  - On your last day of employment with Wells Fargo you are at least age 50 with 10 or more full years of service.

Generally, if you terminated employment and were rehired within six months of your termination, your prior service counts in calculating the eligibility above.

Your completed years of service are measured from your corporate hire date or adjusted service date, whichever is earlier. Partial years are not included.
Short-term awards under incentive compensation plans:

Discretionary plans (including Wells Fargo Bonus Plan)
If you meet all of the terms and conditions of your plan and your last day of employment is during the year or before the date of award payment, you may be eligible to receive an incentive payment. Proration may apply if you were not actively employed for the full year. Reference your plan document and review your plan terms with your manager to confirm your award eligibility.

Nondiscretionary plans (commission, production, and other functional plans)
If you participate in a nondiscretionary plan, reference your plan document and review your plan terms with your manager to confirm your incentive eligibility.

See Step 2: Set Up Your Retirement Income for more details.

Wells Fargo team member financial discounts:
If you meet one of the eligibility requirements on your last day of employment, you will continue to be eligible for some Wells Fargo team member financial discounts that you received as an active team member, including:

- One Wells Fargo Team Member℠ Checking account
- One Wells Fargo Platinum Savings account with no monthly service fee
- Discounted safe deposit box rent
- Reduced mortgage interest rates and closing cost credits

See Step 5: Enjoy Your Retirement for more details.

If you meet these eligibility requirements . . .

In a benefits-eligible full-time or part-time position on your last day of employment and meet one of the following:

- Age 55 with at least 10 completed years of service,
- Age 65 with at least one completed year of service, or
- 80 points (based on age + completed years of service)

Generally, if you terminated employment and were rehired within six months of your termination, your prior service counts in calculating the eligibility above.

Your completed years of service are measured from your corporate hire date or adjusted service date, whichever is earlier. Partial years are not included.

Wells Fargo & Company Long-Term Incentive Compensation Plan (LTICP):
If you meet one of the eligibility requirements on your retirement date, generally you may exercise any of your in-the-money and outstanding LTICP stock options until their original expiration date or dates. Generally, restricted share rights will be issued in your name in shares of Wells Fargo & Company common stock (net of required tax withholdings) approximately three business days after each original vesting date, subject to any applicable regulatory approval requirements. Those shares will be registered, issued, and deposited into an EQ Shareowner Services account in your name.

See Step 2: Set Up Your Retirement Income for more details.

Wells Fargo & Company Long-Term Cash Award Plan (LTCAP):
If you meet one of the eligibility requirements on your retirement date, your awards will continue to vest based on their original vesting schedule following your last day of employment. Annual awards are generally paid out in the April following the March vesting date, subject to any applicable regulatory approval requirements.

See Step 2: Set Up Your Retirement Income for more details.
Once you have a retirement date in mind, talk to your manager about your expected retirement date. Try to provide as much notice as possible. Let your manager know about any Paid Time Off (PTO) you have planned before your last day of employment.

If you have any accrued, unused PTO available on your last day of employment, it will be paid out to you as part of your final pay. Personal holidays, floating holidays, and community service time must be used before your last day worked and will not be paid out if unused. If you’re unsure how much PTO you have available, click the Balance Details button on Time Tracker.

Verify and update your personal information and beneficiary designations

Update personal information
It’s important that Wells Fargo has your correct contact information on file so that you receive all of the necessary correspondence once you retire.

Confirm your home address and other personal contact information on the Personal Information page of Teamworks.

Verify and designate beneficiaries
Often, people designate beneficiaries when they initially enroll in a benefit plan and don’t update them as their personal circumstances change. Now is an important time to review your existing beneficiary designations for the benefit plans on the next page that you participate in and make sure that they still meet your needs. Keep in mind your beneficiary designations are maintained separately for each plan, so you’ll need to update your beneficiary designations separately for each of the plans that you participate in.

Wells Fargo & Company 401(k) Plan and Wells Fargo & Company Cash Balance Plan:
In general, the Wells Fargo & Company 401(k) Plan (“401(k) Plan”) and the Wells Fargo & Company Cash Balance Plan (“Cash Balance Plan”) do not have specific eligibility requirements you must meet to take a distribution following your last day of employment. However, it’s important to note that the IRS may impose an early distribution tax of 10% on some forms of distributions if they’re taken before you turn age 59½ unless an exception applies.

Did you know?
If you are married, the law requires that your spouse be designated as your primary beneficiary for the 401(k) Plan and the Cash Balance Plan. If you want to designate someone other than your spouse, your spouse must consent to the designation in writing.

Cancel your Commuter Benefit Program election

If you're enrolled in the Commuter Benefit Program, you must cancel your Commuter Benefit Program election by the 10th day of the last month for which you need coverage. For example, if you cancel your Commuter Benefit Program election by March 10, your coverage will end on March 31.

For New York's Long Island Rail Road or Metro-North Railroad, you must cancel your Commuter Benefit Program election by the fourth day of the last month for which you need coverage. For example, if you cancel your commuter benefit election by March 4, your coverage will end on March 31.

To cancel your Commuter Benefit Program election:

Online:
- From work: On Teamworks, go to Pay & Benefits and click WageWorks Sign-On under Benefits Tools.
- From home: Go to teamworks.wellsfargo.com and select WageWorks under Claims Administrators.

Over the phone:
Contact WageWorks® at 1-877-WAGEWORKS (1-877-924-3967). Representatives are available Monday through Friday, 7:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. Central Time. Relay service calls are accepted.

Commuter card balances
- Transit or Vanpool Commuter Cards: If you have a balance on your Transit or Vanpool WageWorks Commuter Card at the time of your retirement, the funds will be available for 90 days after your last day of employment. On the 91st day, the unused funds will be forfeited.
- Parking WageWorks Commuter Card: Your Parking WageWorks Commuter Card will be deactivated on your retirement date and any unused funds will be forfeited.

Reimbursement for payments made directly to your parking vendor
- You may continue to submit receipts for eligible expenses that were incurred before your retirement date until your available account balance is zero or within six months of when the expenses were incurred — whichever occurs first. Any remaining balance after that time will be forfeited.
Requesting a reimbursement after your last day of employment:

- Go to teamworks.wellsfargo.com and select WageWorks under Claims Administrators.
- Click Submit Receipt or Claim under the Dashboard section of the page.

To receive your reimbursement within the month, you must submit your reimbursement request and receipts by 5:00 p.m. Central Time on the fourth business day of the month. Claims received after the fourth business day of the month will be reimbursed in the following month.
Step 1 checklist:

- Talk to your manager about your expected retirement date.
- Update your personal information.
- Verify and designate beneficiaries.
- Cancel your Commuter Benefit Program election.

Notes:
Step 2: Set up your retirement income

Now it’s time to think about your sources of income in retirement and how to access them. You have some important decisions to make about your retirement savings, when you want to receive it, and how to make it work for you. To support your financial needs for the duration of your retirement, your retirement income may be generated from several sources including retirement plans like the 401(k) Plan, the Cash Balance Plan, other personal savings such as Individual Retirement Accounts (IRAs), and Social Security retirement benefits.

This section of the guide provides information about Wells Fargo-sponsored plans as well as some general information about Social Security. It is important to note that some plans require action on your part at the time of your retirement or after you are retired. Others don't require action, but there are some things you'll want to be aware of.

Your action is required
- Wells Fargo & Company 401(k) Plan
- Wells Fargo & Company Cash Balance Plan
- Wells Fargo & Company Stock Purchase Plan
- Social Security

No action required, for your information only
- Short-Term Awards under Incentive Compensation Plans

Other sources of retirement income (applicable to a limited population)
- Wells Fargo & Company Deferred Compensation Plan
- Wells Fargo & Company Long-Term Incentive Compensation Plan (Stock Options and Restricted Share Rights)
- Wells Fargo & Company Long-Term Cash Award Plan
- Wells Fargo & Company Supplemental 401(k) Plan & Wells Fargo & Company Supplemental Cash Balance Plan
- Wells Fargo Financial TAPS Excess Benefit Plan and Wells Fargo Financial Excess Pension Plan
- Other executive compensation plans
Wells Fargo & Company 401(k) Plan

If you have a balance in the 401(k) Plan, you’ll need to decide what you want to do with your account balance upon retirement. This section provides general information about your options and the resources available to support you.

Following your last day of employment, you’ll receive a Distribution Options brochure in the mail, which will provide information about your 401(k) Plan distribution options. Along with this brochure, you’ll receive a Special Tax Notice Regarding Plan Payments (“Special Tax Notice”), which provides general tax and rollover information, including the special tax treatment for certain distributions of Wells Fargo & Company common stock. You can also access the 401(k) Plan Summary Plan Description (SPD) for important information about the 401(k) Plan, including distribution options in retirement. Review these materials and talk to a tax or financial advisor before taking a distribution from the 401(k) Plan.

Your options

When you take money out of the 401(k) Plan, it’s called taking a distribution.

If your vested account balance is greater than $1,000, you generally have three distribution options. You may also choose any combination of the options below to meet your individual needs:

- Take it
  - You can take all of your retirement savings as cash, payable to you.
  - You may choose to receive it in a lump sum (paid to you all at one time) or a partial lump sum (paid to you in two or more partial payments).
  - Keep in mind, the IRS may impose an early distribution tax of 10% if you select this option before you reach age 59½ unless an exception applies.

- Roll it
  - You can move your 401(k) Plan account to an Individual Retirement Account (IRA) or another employer’s qualified retirement plan.

- Leave it
  - You can leave your retirement savings in the 401(k) Plan until age 70½ when you are required to take a full distribution.
  - Tax rules require you to begin receiving distribution of your retirement savings by April 1 of the calendar year following your last day of employment or April 1 of the calendar year following the date you turn 70½, whichever is later.

Your action required

Check your 401(k) Plan account balance

On Teamworks, go to Pay & Benefits and select 401(k) Plan Sign-On under Benefits Tools.

Is any of your 401(k) Plan invested in Wells Fargo & Company common stock?

If any of your 401(k) Plan account balance is invested in the Wells Fargo ESOP Fund or the Wells Fargo Non-ESOP Fund, then you have Wells Fargo & Company common stock.

If you are taking a distribution from the 401(k) Plan, you’ll need to determine whether you want to receive the stock as a cash payment or “in kind.”

- Distributed as cash means the Wells Fargo stock is sold and paid in cash.
- Distributed “in kind” means the Wells Fargo stock is transferred as shares and not sold.

If you are planning a direct rollover to an IRA, a brokerage account, or another employer’s qualified plan, before initiating your distribution, make sure that the rollover institution will accept an in-kind transfer of stock.

If you don’t make an election, the distribution will automatically be made in cash.
How and when your 401(k) Plan distribution will be paid

Your distribution will generally be made in the form of a check mailed to your home address on record within five business days of the date the distribution is requested. Wells Fargo stock distributed in the form of shares will be sent separately and could take some additional processing time. If you elect an in-kind stock payment, your shares will be transferred to EQ Shareowner Services as a book-entry statement. A Direct Registration Account Statement with instructions about how to sign on to your account and manage your shares will be mailed to your home address on record.

If your vested account balance is $1,000 or less

- If your vested 401(k) Plan account balance is $1,000 or less at the time of your retirement, it will automatically be paid to you in cash in a single lump sum. You will receive the payment in the form of a check mailed to your home address on record approximately 60 days after the end of the month in which your last day of employment takes place. If you would like to receive the payment sooner, you may contact a plan specialist at 1-877-HRWELLS (1-877-479-3557), option 1, 1, after your last day of employment.

- If you don’t want to receive your 401(k) Plan account balance as cash, you must provide alternate instructions before the automatic distribution occurs. For example, if you want to roll your 401(k) Plan account balance into another qualified retirement plan or IRA, you must provide rollover instructions after your last day of employment but before the end of the 60-day period. You can provide your rollover instructions by calling 1-877-HRWELLS (1-877-479-3557), option 1, 1. Plan specialists are available Monday through Friday, 7:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. Central Time. Relay service calls are accepted.

Requesting a distribution

- A team of plan specialists is available to help you understand your distribution options. They will explain how each option might affect your 401(k) Plan savings and walk you through the distribution process.

- While you can contact a plan specialist anytime to review your options, you can’t initiate a distribution until after your last day of employment with Wells Fargo and its affiliates unless you are considered disabled, as defined by the 401(k) Plan. Refer to the 401(k) Plan SPD for the definition of disability under the 401(k) Plan.

- You can initiate a 401(k) Plan distribution over the phone or online:
  - To work with a plan specialist over the phone:
    - Call 1-877-HRWELLS (1-877-479-3557), option 1, 1.
    - Plan specialists are available Monday through Friday, 7:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. Central Time. Relay service calls are accepted.
- To complete the process online, you have two options:
  1. If you use online banking with Wells Fargo Online®, you can use your existing wellsfargo.com username and password to sign on and access your 401(k) Plan account.

Once you retire, your access to the 401(k) Plan site will change and you will need to register for online access. To do this, select First Time User and register. Then, select Actions & Investments and choose Withdrawals.

If you have an outstanding loan from the 401(k) Plan when you retire

- If you have an outstanding loan from the 401(k) Plan when you retire, the loan balance is immediately due to be repaid. The loan payment deadline is the earlier of: (1) the date your distribution from the 401(k) Plan is processed, or (2) the last business day of the quarter following the quarter in which your employment ends.
- If you don't repay the loan by the deadline, the balance, including interest accrued to the date of the default, will be automatically defaulted and the outstanding balance of your loan will be reported to the IRS as taxable income and may also be subject to the IRS early distribution tax of 10%. At the time you take a distribution from the 401(k) Plan, the defaulted amount will be subtracted from your 401(k) Plan balance.

Continue to access your 401(k) Plan account after you retire

Once you retire, you can continue to access the 401(k) Plan website or speak with a plan specialist to obtain account information, update beneficiary information, reallocate your investments, request a distribution, or perform other transactions.

To access information online you have two options:
  1. If you use online banking with Wells Fargo Online® you can use your existing wellsfargo.com username and password to sign in and access your 401(k) Plan account.
  2. Go to teamworks.wellsfargo.com. Under Wells Fargo & Company 401(k) Plan, select the Inactive Team Members link and choose 401(k) Plan Sign-On. Enter your username and password. If you don’t have a username and password, select First Time User and register for secure access.

To work with a plan specialist over the phone:

- Call 1-877-HRWELLS (1-877-479-3557), option 1, 1.
- Plan specialists are available Monday through Friday, 7:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. Central Time. Relay service calls are accepted.
Wells Fargo & Company Cash Balance Plan

The Cash Balance Plan is a pension plan that was available to eligible team members before July 1, 2009. Even though the Cash Balance Plan is now frozen, cash balance accounts continue to receive investment credits on a quarterly basis. If you were eligible to participate and have an existing benefit in the Cash Balance Plan, you’ll want to think about how and when you want to initiate payment of your benefit when you retire.

This section provides general information about options available to you. You can also refer to the Cash Balance Plan Summary Plan Description (SPD) for additional details about eligibility and distribution options.

Your options

If your Cash Balance Plan benefit is greater than $1,000 at the time of your retirement, you have several options to consider:

- Receiving payment from the Cash Balance Plan is called taking a distribution. When you decide to take a distribution, you can elect to receive payment from the Cash Balance Plan in one of the following ways:
  - Life-only annuity — A life-only annuity pays you a monthly benefit for your lifetime. With a life-only annuity, payments cease when you are no longer living.
  - Joint and 50%, 75%, or 100% survivor annuity — A joint and survivor annuity pays a monthly benefit for your lifetime. It also pays a survivor benefit to your joint annuitant, or beneficiary, if he or she is living at the time of your death. With a joint and survivor annuity, the amount of the monthly payment is generally less than it is in a life-only annuity because the payments are expected to extend over a longer period of time (i.e., over the joint life expectancy of you and your beneficiary).
  - Ten-year certain and life annuity — A 10-year certain and life annuity pays a monthly benefit for your lifetime with a guarantee of at least 10 years of payments. If you die before you have received 10 years of payments, your named beneficiary will receive the same monthly benefit for the remainder of the 10-year period.
  - Lump-sum distribution — A lump-sum distribution is a one-time payment of the entire amount due to you. You may choose to receive your benefit as a direct payment to you or roll it over to an Individual Retirement Account (IRA) or another qualified retirement plan.

You can leave your benefit in the Cash Balance Plan until April 1 of the calendar year following your last day of employment or April 1 of the calendar year following the date you turn 70½, whichever is later. Your Cash Balance Plan account will continue to earn investment credits until you elect to receive a payment.
If you have Cash Balance Plan benefits that were earned under prior plans and merged into the Cash Balance Plan, you may have additional payment options available to you. You will have the opportunity to review these payment options when you estimate your Cash Balance Plan distribution options. See the Estimating Your Payments section on the next page.

Additional items to keep in mind

• If you take a lump-sum distribution before age 59½ and it is not rolled over to an IRA or another qualified retirement plan, your distribution may be subject to the IRS early distribution tax of 10%.

• If you are married at the time you decide to start receiving your Cash Balance Plan benefit, your benefit must be paid to you in the form of a 50% joint and survivor annuity unless you and your spouse consent, in writing, to another form of payment.

• After payments begin, your monthly annuity amount and the person you selected as your designated joint annuitant cannot be changed — even if you divorce, remarry, or the beneficiary dies.

• Cash Balance Plan benefits earned under prior plans that merged into the Cash Balance Plan or benefits earned before the conversion to a cash balance formula may be reduced according to your age at the time of distribution.

Selecting a date to begin receiving your benefit

• Once you decide on a distribution option, you must choose the date you want to begin receiving your Cash Balance Plan benefit. This date is always the first of the month and must be after your last day of employment with Wells Fargo.

• You may begin the distribution process up to 90 days, but no less than 30 days, before you want to begin receiving your benefit.

How and when your Cash Balance Plan benefit will be paid

• If you choose a lump-sum payment, either as a rollover or as payment directly to you, the payment will be made in the form of a check mailed to your home address on record. The check will be mailed within two weeks after your benefit commencement date as long as you have returned all required forms.

• If you choose a monthly annuity, you can elect to receive your payments in the form of a check mailed to your home address on record or you may have your payments direct deposited into your checking or savings account. Your monthly payment will be mailed to you or direct deposited on the first of each month beginning with your benefit commencement date.

Wells Fargo & Company Stock Purchase Plan

The Wells Fargo & Company Stock Purchase Plan (“Stock Purchase Plan”) is a voluntary plan that provides eligible team members the opportunity to purchase Wells Fargo & Company common stock through payroll deductions. Participation in the Stock Purchase Plan ends upon your retirement. You must take a full distribution of your Stock Purchase Plan account within 60 days of your last day of employment. After your last day of employment, you will receive a letter from EQ Shareowner Services outlining the distribution options available to you.

Your options

You must select one of the following distribution options for your Stock Purchase Plan account:

• Sell all of your shares
• Transfer full shares over to a Wells Fargo & Company Direct Registration Account (DRS account) and sell the fractional shares
• Transfer shares over to the Wells Fargo & Company Direct Purchase and Dividend Reinvestment Plan

Distributions are not eligible for a rollover to any retirement plan or Individual Retirement Account (IRA).

How to request a distribution

• Contact EQ Shareowner Services at 1-877-HRWELLS (1-877-479-3557), option 1, 1, and provide instructions on how you would like your shares distributed.

• Stock Purchase Plan specialists are available Monday through Friday, 7:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. Central Time. Relay service calls are accepted.

If you do not call to request a distribution within 60 days of your last day of employment, a withdrawal will be automatically processed. Your shares will be distributed as full shares and credited to a DRS book entry account in your name with EQ Shareowner Services. All fractional shares will be paid to you in cash and mailed to your address on record as soon as administratively possible.

Additional information about the Stock Purchase Plan can be found in the Stock Purchase Plan Prospectus.

Short-Term Awards under Incentive Compensation Plans

Discretionary plans (including Wells Fargo Bonus Plan)

If you meet all of the terms and conditions of your plan, and your last day of employment is during the year or before the date of award payment, you may be eligible to receive an incentive payment. Proration may apply if you were not actively employed for the full year. Reference your plan document and review your plan terms with your manager to confirm your award eligibility.

For eligible participants in the Wells Fargo Bonus Plan, any approved awards will be paid in March following your retirement date. Your incentive award will be paid in the same way that you receive your final pay (direct deposit or check mailed to your home address on record).

If you have questions about the Wells Fargo Bonus Plan, contact Team Member Care at 1-877-HRWELLS (1-877-479-3557), option 2, 1 (TDD/TTY: 1-800-988-0161). Representatives are available Monday through Friday, 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. in your time zone. Relay service calls are accepted.

Additional information about the Wells Fargo Bonus Plan can be found in the Wells Fargo Bonus Plan document (DOC).

Nondiscretionary incentive plan (commission, production, and other functional plans)

If you participate in a nondiscretionary incentive plan, talk to your manager about how your retirement may impact your incentive and the timing of incentive payment. Reference your plan document and review your plan terms with your manager to confirm your incentive eligibility.

Wells Fargo & Company Deferred Compensation Plan

If you participate in the Wells Fargo & Company Deferred Compensation Plan ("Deferred Compensation Plan") and you retire before the commencement of distribution, your deferral account balance will be distributed in the form you elected previously (lump sum or installment payments) beginning in the March following your last day of employment. If you retire after commencement of your distribution, your deferral account balance will continue to be distributed in accordance with your original election.

Wells Fargo & Company Long-Term Incentive Compensation Plan
(Stock Options and Restricted Share Rights)

If you meet the retirement eligibility criteria for the Wells Fargo & Company Long-Term Incentive Compensation Plan (LTICP), upon your retirement:

- Stock options: Generally, you may exercise any of your outstanding in-the-money (i.e., the option exercise price is less than the fair market value of Wells Fargo & Company’s common stock) LTICP stock options until their original expiration date or dates, bearing in mind potential timing restraints relating to certain exercise methods. For example, if a stock option expires over a weekend, the last day you can submit a market order exercise such as a same-day sale or sell-to-cover exercise for that grant is the immediately preceding business day on which the New York Stock Exchange is open. Market orders submitted within 30 minutes of market close are processed on a “best effort” basis. If a trade is not completed before market close, the exercise will be canceled. Once a stock option expires under its terms, it may not be reinstated by Wells Fargo & Company under any circumstance and your ability to exercise the stock option is permanently lost.

- Restricted share rights: Generally, restricted share rights will be issued in your name in shares of Wells Fargo & Company common stock (net of required tax withholdings) approximately three business days after each original vesting date. Those shares will be registered, issued, and deposited into an EQ Shareowner Services account in your name. However, as a result of regulatory restrictions that were added in November 2016, Wells Fargo currently faces constraints on making distributions of restricted share rights to certain team members who leave the company unless Wells Fargo receives regulatory approval to do so. Because of these regulatory restrictions, there may be a delay in distributing your shares. It is also possible that the regulators will not give Wells Fargo approval to distribute the shares.

Review your long-term incentive awards (stock options and restricted share rights)

Sign on to the Long-Term Equity Awards tool:
- From work: On Teamworks, search for “Teamworks — About LTICP.” On the About LTICP page, select Long-Term Equity Awards Sign-On.

Wells Fargo & Company Long-Term Cash Award Plan

If you meet the retirement eligibility requirements for the Wells Fargo & Company Long-Term Cash Award Plan (LTCAP), your awards will continue to vest based on their original vesting schedule following your last day of employment. Annual awards are generally paid out in the April following the March vesting date. However, as a result of regulatory restrictions that were added in November 2016, Wells Fargo currently faces constraints on making payments of LTCAP awards to certain team members who leave the company unless Wells Fargo receives regulatory approval to do so. Because of these regulatory restrictions, there may be a delay in your LTCAP payment — it is also possible that the regulators will not give Wells Fargo approval to pay your award.

Step 3: Decide upon health care coverage in retirement

Planning for health care coverage in retirement

Making sure you have health care coverage that’s the right fit for you and your family is an important step in preparing for your retirement. As you approach retirement, you should evaluate all of the health care options available to you, such as coverage available under the Wells Fargo & Company Retiree Plan (“Retiree Plan”), COBRA continuation of your active team member coverage, coverage available through a working spouse or partner, or coverage through the public or private marketplace.

The options available to you and the things you’ll want to consider as you think about your health care coverage in retirement will differ depending on whether you’re eligible for Medicare (generally age 65 or older) or not yet eligible for Medicare (generally under age 65) at the time of your retirement.

Refer to the appropriate section on the following pages, based on whether you will be eligible for Medicare at the time of your retirement.

Will you be eligible for Medicare (generally, age 65 or older) when you retire?

No

Review the following section for those not yet eligible for Medicare.

Yes

Proceed to page 39

If you’re eligible for Medicare at the time of your retirement and you have an eligible spouse, partner or other dependent who is not yet eligible for Medicare, you may want to review both sections within Step 3.
Information for those not yet eligible for Medicare (generally under age 65)

As you approach your retirement, it’s important to understand when your active team member health care coverage ends, consider the health care coverage options available to you in retirement, and understand what happens to funds in your health account once you retire.

When active team member health care coverage ends

Your active team member medical, dental, and vision coverage will end at the end of the month in which your last day of employment takes place. Coverage for your enrolled dependents will end when your coverage ends.

Consider your options

Coverage under the Wells Fargo & Company Retiree Plan

If you are in a benefits-eligible position on your last day of employment and you meet one of the following age and service requirements, you will be eligible for retiree medical coverage (and dental coverage if you are under age 65) under the Retiree Plan:

- Age 55 with at least 10 completed years of service,
- Age 65 with at least one completed year of service,
- 80 points (based on age + completed years of service), or
- If you were:
  - In a benefits-eligible position and on Wachovia’s payroll as of December 31, 2009, and your age plus full years of service equaled 50 or greater as of January 1, 2010, and
  - On your last day of employment with Wells Fargo you are at least age 50 with 10 or more full years of service.

A limited number of team members are also eligible for a subsidy toward the cost of Wells Fargo-sponsored retiree medical coverage. This means that Wells Fargo pays a portion of the cost of coverage. Your eligibility for a retiree medical subsidy and the amount of your subsidy is dependent upon several factors, including your age and years of service.
Cost of coverage

Keep in mind that retiree medical coverage when you're not yet eligible for Medicare is generally far more expensive than active team member coverage for a number of reasons. The average age and unique health care needs of participants in retiree medical plans results in higher monthly premiums for all participants in the plan. In addition, most team members pay the full cost of retiree health care coverage rather than only paying a portion of the cost as they did when they were enrolled in active team member coverage.

2018 pre-Medicare retiree medical and dental premiums

The table below provides 2018 full monthly premium amounts for medical and dental plans for retirees not yet eligible for Medicare. Retirees are generally responsible for the full monthly premium amounts. However, if you are eligible for a retiree medical subsidy, the subsidy amount will be deducted from the full retiree medical monthly premium amount in the table below.

Understanding your options and costs

To find out if you're eligible for coverage under the Retiree Plan or a subsidy toward the cost of Wells Fargo-sponsored retiree health care coverage, contact the Wells Fargo Retirement Service Center at 1-877-HRWELLS (1-877-479-3557), option 1, 3. Representatives are available Monday through Friday, 7:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. Central Time. Relay service calls are accepted. If you have met the eligibility requirements for coverage, you may request a Retiree Health Care Enrollment Kit, which will include your retiree health care plan options and premiums.

You can also model your retiree health care options online:

- Sign on to benefitconnect.wf.ehr.com/ess and select Model Retiree Health Care Benefits.
- Enter your expected last day of employment and see the options available to you.

Your expected last day of employment must be within the current calendar year to request a Retiree Health Care Enrollment Kit or to model your retiree health care coverage options online.

Making your elections

- If you plan to elect coverage under the Retiree Plan, you must make your elections up to 90 days before your last day of employment or within 60 days after your last day of employment. If you don't elect coverage during the enrollment period available at the time of your retirement, you will not be eligible to enroll in the future.
- Your coverage will generally begin on the first day of the month after your retirement date (unless your retirement date is the first of the month, then your coverage will begin on your retirement date). This means that you will not have a gap in coverage between the time your active team member coverage ends and your retiree health care coverage begins.
- To make your retiree health care elections:
  - Online: Sign on to benefitconnect.wf.ehr.com/ess and select Make My Retiree Health Care Benefit Elections. Enter your expected last day of employment and make your elections.
  - By phone: Call the Wells Fargo Retirement Service Center at 1-877-HRWELLS (1-877-479-3557), option 1, 3. Representatives are available Monday through Friday, 7:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. Central Time. Relay service calls are accepted.
Coverage for dependents

• If you elect Wells Fargo-sponsored retiree medical or dental coverage, you may also elect coverage for your eligible dependents. If you do not choose to enroll your eligible dependents at the time you initially enroll, you may add them in the future only if you experience a qualified event.

• If you are enrolling in Wells Fargo-sponsored retiree medical coverage, you may also explore options available to your Medicare-eligible dependents. When you contact the Wells Fargo Retirement Service Center to request a Retiree Health Care Enrollment Kit, let them know that you have a Medicare-eligible dependent and would like to explore the plan options available to them.

• Dependent children are eligible for coverage under the Retiree Plan if they are unmarried and 18 years or younger or if they are unmarried, age 19 to 23 and enrolled as a full-time student. If you are currently covering a dependent child who is age 24 to 26 under the Wells Fargo active team member medical or dental plan, they will not be eligible for coverage under the Retiree Plan. They will, however, be eligible for COBRA continuation of their active team member coverage (see the COBRA continuation section below).

For additional information about the Wells Fargo & Company Retiree Plan, refer to the Retiree Benefits Book under Resources on the right rail. Information about retiree medical subsidies can be found in Appendix D.

COBRA continuation of active team member coverage

If you are enrolled in active team member medical, dental, vision, or Health Care Flexible Spending Account (FSA) coverage on your last day of employment, you and your enrolled dependents will be eligible for COBRA continuation.

What is COBRA?

COBRA is a temporary continuation of your active team member coverage that generally lasts for 18 months (in some circumstances, COBRA continuation may last for 36 months). You and each of your covered dependents can elect COBRA continuation independently. This means your covered spouse, partner, or other dependents can elect COBRA continuation even if you do not.

Cost of coverage

Under COBRA continuation, you pay the full cost of coverage plus a 2% administrative fee. Wells Fargo does not pay a portion of the cost like when you are enrolled in active team member coverage. This means COBRA continuation costs more than your active team member coverage.

Making your elections
Following your last day of employment, a COBRA Election Notice and additional information about your COBRA continuation coverage options and costs will be mailed to your home address on record. You have until the later of either 60 days from the date of your COBRA Election Notice or 60 days from the date your active team member coverage ends to elect COBRA continuation.

When coverage begins
If you elect COBRA continuation, your coverage will not be in effect until your first premium payment is received. Once your premium payment is received, your coverage will generally be effective on the day after your active team member coverage ended. This means you will not have a gap in coverage between the time that your active team member coverage ends and your COBRA continuation coverage begins.

COBRA and your retiree health care election period
If you are eligible for Wells Fargo-sponsored retiree health care coverage and you are considering electing COBRA, keep in mind that you will not be able to elect Wells Fargo-sponsored retiree health care coverage after your COBRA coverage ends. You must make your retiree health care elections within 60 days after your last day of employment. Also keep in mind that COBRA coverage automatically ends once you enroll in Medicare (generally at age 65).
Coverage available through the health insurance marketplace

The Affordable Care Act (ACA) allows you to purchase individual health care coverage through the health insurance marketplace. This means you have an additional option to consider when choosing your health care coverage in retirement.

Special enrollment period

Because you are retiring and will no longer have access to active team member health care coverage, you may be eligible for a Special Enrollment Period that allows you to elect coverage through the public health insurance marketplace. Your Special Enrollment Period begins 60 days before your active team member health care coverage ends and ends 60 days after your active team member coverage ends. You may be eligible for a Special Enrollment Period even if you are eligible for Wells Fargo-sponsored retiree health care coverage.

Premium tax credits

You may be eligible for a premium tax credit toward the cost of marketplace coverage depending on your household income. To determine if you may be eligible for a premium tax credit toward coverage purchased through the public marketplace, visit healthcare.gov/lower-costs.

Health care accounts upon retirement

Health Savings Account (HSA)

An HSA is an individually owned account. This means your HSA will continue to be yours even after you retire. Your HSA account number will remain the same and you can continue to use your current Health Savings Account Debit Mastercard®.

Once you are no longer enrolled in a Wells Fargo HSA-Based Medical Plan for active team members, you will be responsible for the monthly service fee and any other fees associated with your HSA unless you either:

- Enroll in COBRA continuation of an active team member HSA-Based Medical Plan.
- Enroll in the Wells Fargo-sponsored HSA-Based Medical Plan for retirees.

Using your HSA in retirement

HSA funds can be used to pay for health care expenses in retirement, including premiums for retiree health care coverage. You can continue to contribute to your HSA on an after-tax basis until you enroll in Medicare as long as you're enrolled in a qualified high-deductible health plan. After-tax contributions to your HSA are a tax deduction on your federal income tax return and will reduce your taxable income.

Once you enroll in Medicare, you can no longer contribute to an HSA, but you can continue to use funds to pay for eligible expenses such as copays and coinsurance and premiums for Medicare Part B or Part D and Medicare Advantage plans. You cannot use HSA funds to pay premiums for Medicare Supplement plans (also known as Medigap plans).

At age 65, you can also take penalty-free distributions from your HSA for nonmedical expenses.

Health Reimbursement Account (HRA)

You will no longer have access to funds in your HRA, including health and wellness dollars, once your active team member medical coverage ends, unless you either:

- Enroll in COBRA continuation of the HRA-Based Medical Plan.
- Enroll in the Wells Fargo-sponsored HRA-Based Medical Plan for retirees.
Health Care Flexible Spending Account (FSA)

Your participation in the Full-Purpose Health Care FSA and the Limited Dental/Vision FSA will end on the last day of the month in which your last day of employment takes place. Expenses that are incurred after your participation in the FSA ends are not eligible for reimbursement (unless you enroll in COBRA continuation of your FSA, which requires you to make after-tax contributions to the FSA by check).

Filing claims

• Once your participation in the FSA ends, your WageWorks FSA Card will no longer be active. If, after your participation in the FSA has ended you are making payments for an FSA-eligible expense that was incurred while you were still participating in the FSA, you must use another form of payment and request reimbursement at participant.wageworks.com.¹

• You may continue to file claims for eligible expenses that were incurred before your participation in the FSA ended until your available account balance is zero or April 30 of the calendar year after your last day of employment — whichever occurs first. Any remaining balance after that time will be forfeited.

Health Care FSAs and high deductible health plans

• If you are enrolling in a high deductible health plan in retirement, keep in mind that you may not make contributions to an HSA while you have a remaining balance in a Full-Purpose Health Care FSA.

• This means you must deplete the funds in your Full-Purpose Health Care FSA or wait until April 30 of the calendar year after your last day of employment to contribute to an HSA. This rule does not apply to funds remaining in a Limited Dental/Vision FSA.

For additional information about Health Savings Accounts, Health Reimbursement Accounts, and Health Care Flexible Spending Accounts, refer to the Benefits Book under Resources on the right rail.
Information for those not yet eligible for Medicare

Step 3 checklist
(not yet eligible for Medicare):
- Find out if you’re eligible for Wells Fargo-sponsored retiree health care coverage.
- Request a Retiree Health Care Enrollment Kit or model available options online.
- Understand COBRA continuation options.
- Consider health care coverage available through a working spouse or partner.
- Evaluate coverage available through the health insurance marketplace.
- Understand what will happen to funds in your health account upon your retirement.
- Review all health care options and costs.
- Enroll in coverage.

Notes:
Information for those eligible for Medicare

(generally age 65+)

If you are eligible for Medicare at the time of your retirement, there are some important dates that you'll want to pay close attention to. The Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) defines when you must enroll in Medicare to avoid being subject to a late enrollment penalty. It’s also important to understand when you must elect retiree medical coverage to ensure that you don’t have a gap in coverage between the time your active team member medical coverage ends and your retiree coverage begins.

When active team member health care coverage ends
Your active team member medical, dental, and vision coverage will end at the end of the month in which your last day of employment takes place. Coverage for your enrolled dependents will end when your coverage ends.

Retiree health care coverage
If you are in a benefits-eligible position on your last day of employment and you meet one of the age and service requirements listed below, you will either be eligible for coverage under a Medicare Advantage plan offered as part of the Retiree Plan or you will be able to enroll in individual Medicare-eligible medical coverage through a voluntary Medicare coordinator service called Via Benefits™.

• Age 55 with at least 10 completed years of service,
• Age 65 with at least one completed year of service,
• 80 points (based on age + completed years of service), or
• If you were:
  – In a benefits-eligible position and on Wachovia’s payroll as of December 31, 2009, and your age plus full years of service equaled 50 or greater as of January 1, 2010, and
  – On your last day of employment with Wells Fargo you are at least age 50 with 10 or more full years of service.

If you are eligible for a subsidy toward the cost of Wells Fargo-sponsored coverage, you will be eligible for coverage under a Medicare Advantage plan offered as part of the Retiree Plan. Your eligibility for a retiree medical subsidy and the amount of your subsidy is dependent upon several factors, including your age and years of service.
Information for those eligible for Medicare

If you are not eligible for a subsidy toward the cost of Wells Fargo-sponsored retiree medical coverage, you will be able to enroll in individual Medicare-eligible medical coverage through Via Benefits.

Through Via Benefits, you and your Medicare-eligible dependents will have the opportunity to choose from a variety of individual Medicare medical, prescription drug, dental, and vision plans available in your area. Medicare experts at Via Benefits will provide you with personalized support in choosing the Medicare plans that are the best fit for you and your Medicare-eligible dependents’ unique health and financial needs.

See page 47 for additional information about Via Benefits.

Via Benefits is a voluntary Medicare coordinator service offered by Willis Towers Watson. Via Benefits, and the plans it recommends, is not a part of the Wells Fargo & Company Retiree Plan.

Find out if you’re eligible
To find out if you’re eligible for a retiree health care subsidy and access to a Wells Fargo-sponsored Medicare Advantage plan, or access to Via Benefits, contact the Wells Fargo Retirement Service Center at 1-877-HRWELLS (1-877-479-3557), option 1, 3. Representatives are available Monday through Friday, 7:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. Central Time. Relay service calls are accepted.
Information about Medicare

As you're evaluating your health care coverage options in retirement, it’s important that you take time to understand some important information about Medicare. Generally, eligibility for Medicare begins on the first day of the month in which you turn 65. If your birthday is on the first of the month, then you become eligible for Medicare on the first of the month before you turn 65.

You must be enrolled in Medicare Part A and Part B to elect coverage

Whether you are eligible for a Wells Fargo-sponsored Medicare Advantage plan or access to Via Benefits™, you must be enrolled in Medicare Part A and Part B at the time you are electing coverage. To avoid a gap in coverage between your active team member medical coverage and your retiree medical coverage, you must make your retiree medical election prior to your last day of employment. To ensure that you are enrolled in Medicare Part A and Part B in time to elect retiree health care coverage, you should consider signing up for Medicare about three months before your last day of employment.

Signing up for Medicare

Medicare Part A

You must be enrolled in Medicare Part A before you can enroll in Medicare Part B. When you enroll in Medicare Part A, your Part A coverage will generally begin retroactively six months prior to the date you sign up (but no earlier than the first month you are eligible for Medicare). Generally, you do not pay a monthly premium for Medicare Part A. If you are contributing to a Health Savings Account (HSA), keep in mind that you can no longer contribute once you're enrolled in Medicare. Because Medicare Part A will automatically begin retroactively up to six months prior to the date you sign up, if you are already Medicare eligible, it is recommended that you stop contributing to your HSA at least six months before you enroll in Medicare. If you do not stop HSA contributions at least six months before Medicare enrollment, you may incur a tax penalty.
Medicare Part A and Part B

If you are just becoming eligible for Medicare at the time of your retirement

The Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) allows you to enroll in Medicare during your Initial Enrollment Period (IEP), which is a seven-month period that begins three months before you turn 65 and ends three months after you turn 65. If your birthday is on the first of the month, you become eligible for Medicare on the first of the month before you turn 65 and your Initial Enrollment Period begins three months before you become eligible for Medicare.

If you are already eligible for Medicare at the time of your retirement and you are covered under the Wells Fargo & Company active team member medical plan, upon your retirement CMS allows you and your Medicare-eligible, enrolled spouse access to a Special Enrollment Period (SEP) to sign up for Medicare. You can sign up for Medicare anytime while you’re covered under the Wells Fargo active team member medical plan or during the eight-month period that begins the month after your employment ends. Generally, the SEP is not available for domestic partners. If you cover your domestic partner, contact Medicare for information about enrollment periods for domestic partners.

Remember

While your ability to sign up for Medicare extends well beyond your retirement date, if you are enrolling in a Wells Fargo-sponsored Medicare Advantage plan, you must enroll within 60 days after your last day of employment.

Important reminder

If you don’t sign up for Medicare during your Initial Enrollment Period or Special Enrollment Period, you could be subject to a late enrollment penalty, so it’s important to take action at the appropriate time.
Confirmation of group health plan coverage (Form CMS L564)

- When signing up for Medicare as part of a Special Enrollment Period, CMS may require you or your enrolled spouse to complete Form CMS L564, which is used to confirm that you have been enrolled in group health plan coverage and are eligible for a Special Enrollment Period.
- To request that Wells Fargo complete the employer portion of Form CMS L564, complete Section A of the form and fax the form to Wells Fargo Operations at 1-866-512-1002 or send the form by secure email to voefax@wellsfargo.com.
- The completed form will be mailed to your home address on file within three to five business days.
- If you would prefer to receive the completed form back by secure email to an internal Wells Fargo email address, you may make this request at the time you submit the form.
- If you have questions about Form CMS L564 and whether it will be required when you sign up for Medicare, contact Social Security at 1-800-772-1213.

After you enroll in Medicare

About 30 days after you enroll in Medicare, you will receive a red, white, and blue Medicare ID card that contains your Health Insurance Claim Number (HICN) or your Medicare Beneficiary Identifier (MBI). You will need to have your HICN or MBI before you can enroll in coverage under the Wells Fargo Retiree Plan or through Via Benefits™.

Note: During 2018 and into 2019, CMS is transitioning from using a Social Security-based Health Insurance Claim Number (HICN) to a new Medicare Beneficiary Identifier (MBI). CMS is removing Social Security numbers from Medicare cards to prevent fraud and fight identity theft. If you are issued an MBI at the time of your enrollment in Medicare, this will be used in place of the HICN.

The above content about Medicare is provided for informational purposes only. Wells Fargo is not providing and cannot provide any advice about your individual circumstances. Contact Social Security at 1-800-772-1213 or in person at your local Social Security office for complete information about Medicare and to discuss your individual circumstances.
Wells Fargo-sponsored Medicare Advantage plans

Medicare Advantage plans are also known as Medicare Part C. These plans combine all of the benefits of Medicare Part A and Medicare Part B and also include Medicare Part D and extra programs that are not offered through original Medicare.

If you are eligible for a Wells Fargo-sponsored Medicare Advantage plan, coverage will be available through the UnitedHealthcare® Group Medicare Advantage (PPO) plan. If you live in California, you will also have the option to select a Kaiser Medicare Advantage plan.

Understanding your options and costs

To request a Retiree Health Care Enrollment Kit, which will provide information about the current year’s plan options and monthly costs, contact the Wells Fargo Retirement Service Center at 1-877-HRWELLS (1-877-479-3557), option 1. Representatives are available Monday through Friday, 7:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. Central Time. Relay service calls are accepted.

You can also model your retiree health care options online:

- Sign on to benefitconnect.wf.ehr.com/ess¹ and select Model Retiree Health Care Benefits.
- Enter your expected last day of employment and see options available to you.

Your expected last day of employment must be within the current calendar year to request a Retiree Health Care Enrollment Kit or to model your retiree health care coverage options online.

Making your elections

• You must make your elections up to 90 days before your last day of employment or within 60 days after your last day of employment. If you don’t elect coverage during the enrollment period available at the time of your retirement, you will not be eligible to enroll in the future.

• Coverage for you and your Medicare-eligible dependents will begin on the first of the month following the date you make your Medicare Advantage plan election and the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) approves your application for enrollment. This means if you do not elect medical coverage prior to your last day of employment, you will experience a gap in coverage between your coverage as an active team member and your coverage under a Medicare Advantage plan.

• You must provide your Health Insurance Claim Number (HICN) or Medicare Beneficiary Identifier (MBI), at the time you are making your Medicare Advantage plan election, which is found on your Medicare ID card. To ensure that you have your HICN or MBI in time to enroll in a Medicare Advantage plan prior to your last day of employment, you should consider signing up for Medicare about three months before your last day of employment.

Note: During 2018 and into 2019, CMS is transitioning from using a Social Security-based Health Insurance Claim Number (HICN) to a new Medicare Beneficiary Identifier (MBI). CMS is removing Social Security numbers from Medicare cards to prevent fraud and fight identity theft. If you are issued an MBI at the time of your enrollment in Medicare, this will be used in place of the HICN.

• CMS requires you to have a physical street address (not a P.O. Box) within the U.S. or U.S. territories on file with the Wells Fargo Retirement Service Center to enroll in a Wells Fargo-sponsored Medicare Advantage plan.

Remember

If you do not elect medical coverage prior to your last day of employment, you will experience a gap in coverage between your coverage as an active team member and your coverage under a Medicare Advantage plan.
To make your retiree health care elections

- Online: Sign on to benefitconnect.wf.ehr.com/ess and select Make My Retiree Health Care Benefit Elections. Enter your expected last day of employment and make your elections.

- By phone: Contact the Wells Fargo Retirement Service Center at 1-877-HRWELLS (1-877-479-3557), option 1, 3. Representatives are available Monday through Friday, 7:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. Central Time. Relay service calls are accepted.

Coverage for dependents

- If you elect Wells Fargo-sponsored retiree medical coverage, you may also elect coverage for your eligible dependents even if they are not yet eligible for Medicare. If you do not choose to enroll your eligible dependents at the time you initially enroll, you may add them in the future if you experience a Qualified Event. When you contact the Wells Fargo Retirement Service Center to request a Retiree Health Care Enrollment Kit, let them know that you have dependents who are not yet eligible for Medicare and would like to explore the plan options available to them.

- Dependent children are eligible for coverage under the Retiree Plan if they are unmarried and 18 years or younger or if they are unmarried, age 19 to 23, and enrolled as a full-time student. If you are currently covering a dependent child who is age 24 to 26 under the Wells Fargo active team member health care plan, they will not be eligible for coverage under the Retiree Plan. They will, however, be eligible for COBRA continuation of their active team member coverage (see the COBRA continuation section on page 48).

If you have questions, contact the Wells Fargo Retirement Service Center at 1-877-HRWELLS (1-877-479-3557), option 1, 3. Representatives are available Monday through Friday, 7:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. Central Time. Relay service calls are accepted.

For additional information about the Retiree Plan, refer to the Retiree Benefits Book under Resources on the right rail. Information about retiree medical subsidies can be found in Appendix D.
Via Benefits™

Via Benefits is a voluntary Medicare coordinator service that offers you and your Medicare-eligible dependents support in making your individual Medicare plan enrollment decisions. If you are eligible for Via Benefits, you’ll have access to a wide variety of individual Medicare plans available in your area. You can choose from Medicare Advantage, Medicare Supplement, and Medicare Prescription Drug plans with different coverage offerings and monthly premiums. You’ll also have access to retiree dental and vision plan options. A team of Medicare experts will provide you with personalized support in selecting and enrolling in an individual Medicare plan that’s the best fit for your unique health needs and that works within your budget.

Enrolling in coverage through Via Benefits

You can elect coverage through Via Benefits up to three months before your last day of employment. As long as you elect coverage prior to your last day of employment, your coverage will generally be effective the first of the month after your last day of employment. If you do not elect medical coverage prior to your last day of employment, you will experience a gap in coverage between your coverage as an active team member and the coverage you elect through Via Benefits.

Steps to enroll

1. Complete your personal profile

   To help you find plans that meet your medical and financial needs, Via Benefits will collect information about you. You can reduce the time you spend on the phone during your enrollment appointment by gathering the information and entering it into your online personal profile before your call to enroll. Go to my.viabenefits.com/wf and select My Account. You’ll need to provide an email address and create an account ID and password. If you don’t complete your personal profile online, that’s OK — a Via Benefits representative can fill it out for you when you call to schedule your enrollment appointment or when you call to enroll.

2. Schedule a call to enroll

   You can schedule your call to enroll in coverage by going online to my.viabenefits.com/wf or calling Via Benefits at 1-866-202-9574 (TTY 711). Benefit Advisors are available Monday through Friday, 7:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. Central Time. Make sure to schedule your call to enroll as soon as possible to give yourself time to consider your options and enroll before your last day of employment. An enrollment call can take one to two hours to complete, so give yourself plenty of time.

3. Review your plan options and enroll

   If you’d like, you can review the plans available in your area before your enrollment call by logging in to my.viabenefits.com/wf and selecting the Shop & Compare tab. Don’t worry if you’re unsure about which plans are right for you — your benefit advisor will help you understand your options and select coverage that meets your medical and financial needs during your enrollment appointment.

Via Benefits is a voluntary Medicare coordinator service offered by Willis Towers Watson. Via Benefits, and the plans it recommends, is not maintained or sponsored by Wells Fargo & Company and is not part of the Wells Fargo & Company Retiree Plan.

COBRA continuation of active team member coverage

If you are enrolled in active team member medical, dental, vision, or Health Care Flexible Spending Account coverage on your last day of employment, you and your enrolled dependents will be eligible for COBRA continuation.

What is COBRA?

COBRA is a temporary continuation of your active team member coverage that generally lasts for 18 months (in some circumstances, COBRA continuation may last for 36 months). You and each of your covered dependents can elect COBRA continuation independently. This means your covered spouse, partner, or other dependents can elect COBRA continuation even if you do not.

Cost of coverage

Under COBRA continuation, you pay the full cost of coverage plus a 2% administrative fee. Wells Fargo does not pay a portion of the cost like when you are enrolled in active team member coverage. This means COBRA continuation costs more than your active team member coverage.

Keep in mind

- COBRA coverage automatically ends once you enroll in Medicare.
- Your Special Enrollment Period (SEP) allows you to enroll in Medicare during the eight-month period that begins the month after your employment ends. Enrolling in COBRA does not extend your Special Enrollment Period. You will not be eligible for a Medicare Special Enrollment Period when your COBRA coverage ends.
- If you are eligible for Wells Fargo-sponsored retiree health care coverage and you are considering electing COBRA, keep in mind that you will not be able to elect Wells Fargo-sponsored retiree health care coverage after your COBRA coverage ends.

Making your elections

Following your last day of employment, a COBRA Election Notice and additional information about your COBRA continuation coverage options and costs will be mailed to your home address on record. You have until the later of either 60 days from the date of your COBRA Election Notice or 60 days from the date your active team member coverage ends to elect COBRA continuation.

When coverage begins

If you elect COBRA continuation, your coverage will not be in effect until your first premium payment is received. Once your premium payment is received, your coverage will generally be effective on the day after your active team member coverage ended. This means you will not have a gap in coverage between the time that your active team member coverage ends and your COBRA continuation coverage begins.

How to find out more

If you have questions about COBRA continuation, contact BenefitConnect™ COBRA at 1-877-29COBRA (1-877-292-6272). Representatives are available Monday through Friday, 8:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. Central Time. Relay service calls are accepted.

For additional information about COBRA continuation coverage, refer to Appendix E of the Benefits Book, which is found under Resources on the right rail.
Health care accounts upon retirement

Health Savings Account (HSA)
An HSA is an individually owned account. This means your HSA will continue to be yours even after you retire. Your HSA account number will remain the same and you can continue to use your current Health Savings Account Debit Mastercard®.

Once you are no longer enrolled in a Wells Fargo HSA-based medical plan for active team members, you will be responsible for the monthly service fee and any other fees associated with your HSA unless you enroll in COBRA continuation of an active team member HSA-based medical plan.

Using your HSA in retirement
Once you enroll in Medicare you can no longer contribute to an HSA, but you can continue to use funds to pay for eligible expenses such as copays and coinsurance and premiums for Medicare and Medicare Advantage plans. Remember, once you sign up for Medicare Part A, it will generally automatically begin retroactively six months before the date you sign up. CMS recommends that you stop contributing to your HSA at least six months before you enroll in Medicare. If you do not stop HSA contributions at least six months before Medicare enrollment, you may incur a tax penalty.

At age 65 you can take penalty-free distributions from your HSA for any reason. However, to be both penalty-free and tax-free, the distribution must be for a qualified medical expense. Withdrawals made for purposes other than qualified medical expenses are subject to ordinary income taxes.

Health Reimbursement Account (HRA)
You will no longer have access to funds in your HRA, including health and wellness dollars, once your active team member medical coverage ends, unless you enroll in COBRA continuation coverage under the HRA-Based Medical Plan.
Health Care Flexible Spending Account (FSA)

Your participation in the Full-Purpose Health Care FSA and the Limited Dental/Vision FSA will end on the last day of the month in which your last day of employment takes place. Expenses that are incurred after your participation in the FSA ends are not eligible for reimbursement (unless you enroll in COBRA continuation coverage of your FSA, which requires you to make after-tax contributions to the FSA by check).

Filing claims

- Once your participation in the FSA ends, your WageWorks FSA Card will no longer be active. If, after your participation in the FSA has ended you are making payments for an FSA-eligible expense that was incurred while you were still participating in the FSA, you must use another form of payment and request reimbursement at participant.wageworks.com.¹

- You may continue to file claims for eligible expenses that were incurred before your participation in the FSA ended until your available account balance is zero or April 30 of the calendar year after your last day of employment — whichever occurs first. Any remaining balance after that time will be forfeited.

For additional information about Health Savings Accounts, Health Reimbursement Accounts and Health Care Flexible Spending Accounts, refer to the Benefits Book, which is under Resources on the right rail.

What’s the balance in your FSA?

Find out your current FSA balance by logging in to participant.wageworks.com or contacting WageWorks at 1-877-WAGeworks (1-877-924-3967). Representatives are available Monday through Friday, 7:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. Central Time.

Step 4: Evaluate financial protection benefits

Financial protection benefits can serve as a safety net to help you protect against financial hardships that could affect your stability or the stability of your family. If you have coverage under the Wells Fargo & Company Life Insurance Plan (“Life Insurance Plan”), Wells Fargo & Company Accidental Death and Dismemberment Plan (“AD&D Plan”), or the Wells Fargo & Company Legal Services Plan (“Legal Services Plan”) on your last day of employment, you may be eligible to port, convert, or continue coverage in retirement. You also have the option to purchase voluntary long-term care insurance, which provides coverage for nonmedical, personal care that may be required over an extended period of time and is generally not covered by health plans or Medicare.

Life insurance coverage

When you retire, your Basic Term Life, Optional Term Life, Spouse/Partner Optional Term Life, and Dependent Term Life Insurance coverage ends at the end of the month in which your last day of employment takes place. You generally have 31 days from the date your active team member coverage ends to elect to continue life insurance coverage for yourself or your covered dependents through porting or converting options. These options do not require you or your dependents to have a medical exam or provide a Statement of Health.

Porting

Porting means you continue the same group coverage at rates determined by the insurance carrier based on age and tobacco-use status. If you port your Basic Term Life or Optional Term Life coverage, the coverage reduces by 50% at age 70 and terminates at age 100. If you port your Spouse/Partner Optional Term Life coverage, the coverage terminates when your spouse or partner reaches age 70. If you port your Dependent Term Life coverage, coverage terminates when your dependent child reaches age 25.

Converting

Converting means your group coverage will change to an individual Whole Life policy with Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Company (MassMutual). Rates are generally higher for a Whole Life policy because it provides lifelong coverage and does not have age reduction rules.
Retiree continuation

In addition to porting and converting options, you may be eligible for retiree continuation of your Optional Term Life Insurance, which means you can continue your group coverage at rates that are determined by Metropolitan Life Insurance Company (MetLife) based on your age and tobacco-use status. You are eligible for retiree continuation if, on your last day of employment, you are in a full-time or part-time benefits-eligible position and you meet one of the following requirements:

- Age 55 with at least 10 completed years of service,
- Age 65 with at least one completed year of service,
- 80 points (based on age + completed years of service), or
- If you were:
  - In a benefits-eligible position and on Wachovia’s payroll as of December 31, 2009, and your age plus full years of service equaled 50 or greater as of January 1, 2010, and
  - On your last day of employment with Wells Fargo you are at least age 50 with 10 or more full years of service.

Electing to port, convert, or continue coverage

By the middle of the month after your last day of employment, you will receive a personalized information packet from MetLife that includes each of your continuation of coverage options. If you don’t receive your personalized information packet within 21 days after your last day of employment, contact MetLife at 1-888-252-3607. Representatives are available Monday through Friday, 7:00 a.m. to 10:00 p.m. Central Time. Relay service calls are accepted.

If you want to port or continue your coverage, you must return the form to MetLife by the deadline included in your personalized information packet, generally within 31 days of the date your active team member life insurance coverage ends. If you are electing to port your coverage, you must also include your first premium payment along with your election form.

If you want to convert your coverage to a Whole Life Policy with MassMutual, you should make an appointment to speak with a MassMutual financial professional by calling MetLife at 1-877-275-6387 generally within 31 days of the date your active team member life insurance coverage ends.

Accidental Death and Dismemberment (AD&D) Plan coverage

When you retire, your AD&D Plan coverage ends at the end of the month in which your last day of employment takes place. If you are enrolled in the AD&D Plan on your last day of employment, you may port the coverage under the AD&D Plan to an individual policy. Your covered spouse, domestic partner, or dependent may also elect to port coverage to an individual policy when the coverage ends. You and all of your covered dependents may port a minimum of $25,000 of coverage in increments of $1,000, up to your current coverage amount, but not to exceed $250,000.

Electing to port coverage

By the middle of the month after your last day of employment, you will receive a personalized information packet from Metropolitan Life Insurance Company (MetLife) that includes your AD&D Plan porting options.

If you want to port coverage, you must return the form and first premium payment to MetLife by the deadline included in your personalized information packet, generally within 31 days of the date your active team member AD&D Plan coverage ends. If you do not receive your personalized information packet within 21 days after your last day of employment, contact MetLife at 1-888-252-3607. Representatives are available Monday through Friday, 7:00 a.m. to 10:00 p.m. Central Time. Relay service calls are accepted.

Legal Services Plan

When you retire, your coverage under the Legal Service Plan ends at the end of the month in which your last day of employment takes place. You have the option to convert coverage to an individual policy within 90 days of the date your active team member coverage ends.

Electing to convert coverage

About three weeks after your last day of employment, you will receive a letter from ARAG® outlining the steps you should take if you would like to convert your Legal Services Plan coverage to an individual policy. You must elect coverage and send payment to ARAG within 90 days of the date your active team member coverage ends.

If you have questions about the Legal Services Plan, contact ARAG at 1-800-299-2345 (TTY 1-800-383-4184). Representatives are available Monday through Friday, 7:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. Central Time. You can also log in to araglegalcenter.com (access code 16862wfc).
Long-Term Care Insurance

Long-term care insurance helps pay the cost for personal care needs that may be required over an extended period of time and are generally not covered by health plans or Medicare. Most long-term care is not medical care. It is help with basic personal tasks of everyday living, such as bathing, dressing, and eating. Care may be provided at home, in an assisted living facility, or in a nursing home. Long-term care policies generally reimburse policyholders a daily amount up to a maximum per day.

Learn more

To find out about voluntary long-term care insurance policies available to you, your spouse or domestic partner, your parents, or your in-laws, go to wells.legacyltci.com. You can also contact a representative at 1-800-230-3398, extension 101. Representatives are available Monday through Friday, 7:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. Central Time. Relay service calls are accepted.

The policies offered are individual insurance contracts, which require medical underwriting. The policies are not sponsored or maintained in any way by Wells Fargo. To apply, you will need to complete a medical questionnaire and the provider will pull your medical records.

The information about long-term care insurance provided above is for informational purposes only. Long-term care insurance is not a Wells Fargo-sponsored benefit.
Step 4 checklist:

- Understand your life insurance and AD&D Plan continuation options.
- If you want to continue life insurance or AD&D Plan coverage, make an election or appointment with MassMutual within 31 days of the date your active team member coverage ends.
- Understand your Legal Service Plan continuation option.
- If you want to continue Legal Service Plan coverage, make an election and send the premium to ARAG® within 90 days of the day your active team member coverage ends.
- Evaluate voluntary long-term care options and enroll in coverage, if desired.
Step 5: Enjoy your retirement

You’ve made it — congratulations! As you begin your retirement, it’s important to have a plan for ongoing personal growth, remaining productive and energized, and maintaining a sense of purpose and personal fulfillment. Whether you plan to relax and spend time with family and friends or turn a hobby into a second career, your retirement is going to be a change from the routine you’re familiar with today. Like most things in life, you’ll get the most out of your retirement by planning ahead. Start by thinking about how you’ll replace your work routine with a retirement routine. Look for ways to stay active and involved and take advantage of discounts that will continue to be available to you as a Wells Fargo retiree.

Whether you elect health care coverage through Wells Fargo or get your coverage elsewhere, many retiree health care plans offer access to a number of programs to help you maintain good health in retirement. Some common types of programs include gym memberships, support from nurses in managing a chronic condition, rewards for completing preventive screenings, drug discount programs, caregiver support programs, and local health fairs.
